Town and District News

Great growing weather.
Sports—Monday, May 25th.
Keep boosting for Gleichen.
There is a good opening at Gleichen for a lawyer.
Straw hats are now in season and look comfortable.
Born—At Gleichen, on Monday, May 4th, to the wife of J. A. Malvey, a son.
Born—At Gleichen, on Sunday, April 18th, to the wife of A. Carey, a daughter.
Born—At Regina, on Saturday, April 25th, to the wife of W. W. Brown, of Strathmore, a daughter.
Great weather and the denizens are hugging the shady side of the street, cool nights.
The small boys around Gleichen are now enjoying swimming in the lakes—looks like sunny Alberta, eh?

At the meeting of the Board of Trade in the Bank of Commerce next Tuesday evening among other important matters to be discussed the formation of an agricultural society will be brought up, when it is hoped a good attendance of members will be present.
Mr. Larkan is getting plans and estimates for a three-story building 60x48 feet, which he may have erected on the lot he recently purchased east of the Post Office. He has already given a contract for the excavation of a basement and has removed the old buildings to the rear of the lots, where they are being re-modelled for dwellings. While Mr. Larkan has not fully decided on his new building if his present plans are carried out they will result in a splendid addition to Gleichen's business blocks.

A very quiet wedding took place last Mr. and Mrs. McPhee's home last Wednesday afternoon, the 29th inst, when the Rev. Mr. Castle united in the bonds of holy matrimony Miss E. M. Eyles, who arrived the same day from Witney, Oxfordshire, England, to Mr. Harry Hamar of Gleichen, Miss McPhee acting as bridesmaid. Mr. Hamar has taken charge of Mr. McPhee's farm eight miles north of town where the newly wedded couple have taken up their home. Mr. Hamar's many friends join in wishing him and his wife a long and useful life.

The Call is always anxious to say a good word for an advertiser and we want to say that Dr. H. Lake, the Calgary dentist, makes good all he advertises. He has just completed some work for us and we have never seen better or nicer work. He has given entire satisfaction in every particular and we cannot too highly recommend him. His laboratory at Calgary is complete in all the modern equipment for dentistry and a visit to his place of business is most interesting. While at Calgary a representative of a dental house stated that in his travels from Halifax to Vancouver he only knew of one other dentist who had an equipment to equal Dr. Lake's in the broad Dominion. He said, "Lake has all the appliances to be seen in the picture books." A reference to the doctor would not be complete without mentioning his able assistant, Miss King, who is a very clever young lady in her line. The rapidity with which work is turned out by the doctor and his assistant is really wonderful, with the aid of electricity and compressed air they accomplish work in a few hours that others occupy days at, and do it without the agony the patient so much dreads.

Painters arrived yesterday to repaint the C. P. R. section house, which is also to be thoroughly renovated.
Road Master E. Desharnais was in town Monday figuring out plans for laying out the local C. P. R. yards.
Agent Cory is planting a very neat garden at the station, and among numerous other things he is putting in a few rows of sugar beets.

The new C. P. R. park is not going ahead as fast as predicted and it is hoped Supt. Lawrence will see that a good start is made this year.

Queenstown is already preparing for a 4th of July celebration. Those Yankee homeborders are the right kind of folks to make good Canucks. We want more of them.

Prestwich Bros. recently sold two carloads of horses to Doudurn horse buyers, which were taken north, and the same men are figuring on buying more horses from them shortly.

Mrs. Eyles was taken seriously ill last week and had to be removed to the Holy Cross Hospital, Calgary, but arrived back yesterday and in a week's time expects to be around as usual.

Messrs. Newburn and Flock arrived on Saturday with forty horses and entire outfit to work on the irrigation laterals between Namaka and Strathmore, under a sub-contract from Cory Bros.

Wakefield & Milliken have been induced to build a temporary grand stand at the race track for Empire day, for which they will charge 25 cents admission. This will be a great convenience and there will be no doubt about it being liberally patronized.

A very enthusiastic baseball meeting was held in the Gleichen Hotel Thurs day evening, when a club was duly organized and sufficient members joined to make up two teams, which should result in the picked team getting plenty of practice and some good matches. S. H. Firth was elected manager, J. A. Renaud captain and secretary-treasurer, and A. Walker assistant captain. It was decided to purchase a complete outfit and it is urged that all who care to play apply to the manager or captain. Regular practices will be held each Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

The Annual Vestry meeting of St. Andrew's church was held Sunday night, when the Curate in charge, Rev. T. W. Castle, took the chair. After the reading of the minutes of the last meeting the chairman read the financial statement of the past year, from Easter 1907 to Easter 1908. The total income for church expenses amounted to $321.50 and the expenditure was $312.20, leaving a balance on hand of $9.30. The chairman explained this account had nothing to do with the clergy stipend or the parsonage fund. The election of officers for the present year ensued. Dr. Rose and R. Notter were the retiring church wardens. M. Dickinson was appointed the incumbent's warden and Mr. Hogg parish warden. The new vestry consists of the incumbent, Rev. S. J. Stocken, the Curate, Rev. T. W. Castle, Church wardens, Messrs. S. M. Dickinson and R. H. Hogg. Vestrymen, Messrs. McPhee, Ostrander, Birch, Notter, Yatet, Griesbach, James and McLeod. Lay delegate to the Diocesan Synod A. D. Shorn. Several other business matters were attended to before the meeting adjourned.

W. D. McCallum, the Alberta manager of the Sun Life Insurance Co. of Calgary and H. Baker, of Medicine Hat, have spent most of the past week in Gleichen and so impressed are they with this town that Mr. Baker has about decided to open an office and remain here permanently in the insurance business.

The Call at the present time is under heavy expense and would respectfully ask all those indebted to us to do their best to help us meet our obligations. No matter how small the amount may be it will help; in fact all of our accounts are small, but total up to a very considerable amount. Kindly do your best, which is just what we are doing. If all will do this just now it will materially aid us and we will soon be able to give a better and larger Call.

Wm. Maxwell of Snowflake, Man., spent a few days in town during the week visiting Miss Robertson and Mrs. McCoy.

Bassano News

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Newman of the Hand Hills, have been spending a week at Mrs. Newman's home.

The fire gave Bassano a close call and it was only by the stringent efforts of the town people that it was kept off.

There have been quite a number of people looking over the land in this neighborhood lately sizing up its possibilities, and will be ready when it is put on the market.

Bond and Baker handle all the new comers with extreme satisfaction and all the expected visitors will receive a royal surprise when they see what the boys are doing to comply with the wishes of the travelling public.

Hugh Robinson, on the Bow, has been appointed range rider for the purpose of keeping in touch with the mango problem.

Queenstown Happenings

T. P. McElroy had the misfortune to lose all his buildings by fire last week, down at his South Camp. The origin of the fire is unknown.

W. H. Markley was to town on business Monday.

F. McHugh of Calgary is down here on a visit to his uncle, T. P. McHugh.
O. G. Calghoun was to town last week to meet his sister from Ontario, who expects to make a stay at the Circle Ranch for a time.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Solberg on April 18th, a girl. Both mother and child are doing nicely.

Boys! Now is your time to show the Gleichenites what we have in the line of baseball players. Get on your fighting clothes and show them on the 25th of May.

T. Southerland accompanied by Mr. W. Pritch made a trip to Gleichen Tuesday.

We have had several showers of rain so far, and wheat is beginning to show up.

Messrs. Page and Saunders, of Victoria, B. C., are moving onto their homesteads, accompanied by their families.

The Queenstown school house is moving right along and it is expected to be opened in June.

The death of Mrs. F. Reid last Sunday morning is deeply regretted by the entire Queenstown district and their sympathy is extended to the bereaved husband and five young children. Deceased died from liver complaint and was buried in the Gleichen cemetery Tuesday afternoon. She had resided in this district for about six years and was respected by all who knew her.

Sugar-Beet Growing

Writing of the Gleichen district a writer says: Sugar beet raising in favorable soil is a most profitable industry and land adapted to the raising of sugar beets is valuable land. The net profit of sugar beet raising is from $10 to $100 per acre per annum. That this land is adapted to the profitable raising of sugar beets has already been demonstrated, and Alberta sugar beets average very high in saccharine contents and purity, owing to the character of the soil and the long hours of sunshine during the growing and maturing seasons. Relative to this subject, Mr. J. S. Dennis, who has made a most exhaustive research into this matter, says: "Sugar is already being made in large quantities at Raymond, under conditions no more favorable than are presented by at least 50 per cent of this tract. The percentage of saccharine which the beets produce in Alberta is so high that it is almost incredible to Europeans, and also to many in the Eastern and Middle States."

Sugar factories to be a success must have beets, and beet growers must have a factory at which to market their beets. Sugar beet growers in this irrigation block now have an assured market of $5.00 ton for all the beets they can raise.

Grown by Electricity

Two scientists of the Netherlands did something recently. They made a mushroom. They had a galvanic element of carbon and iron and immersed it in a solution of salts and uranium. When various other metallic salts were added queer objects began to form on the carbon. They grew swiftly until at last they clung like veritable mushroom growths. At first they are transparent. Then they begin to color beautifully, so that some become bright red on top, while the stem is pale yellow and the under part of the head is pale rose. "Inorganic mushrooms," the creators have named them. But with the microscope can be seen fine canals extending from the top down through the stem like veins. Are these mushroom forms, then, born electrical action from metallic salts, destined to teach us something of the birth of life. Some years ago Prof. Leeb took the unfertilized eggs of a sea urchin and laid them in a chemical mixture of which sea water was the greatest part. There resulted what seemed like a miracle. The eggs became fertile.

W. PARK EVANS,

Publisher and Proprietor.

Gleichen, Alberta, May 7, 1908.

Don't let your interest in the Dominion Exhibition wane, but see if you cannot produce something just a little better than other folks. Quite a few are already after prizes in this district.

The program and prize list for the Gleichen Empire Day sports appearing elsewhere in this issue, is an exceptionally good one, and as the officers and committee are very active in their work all who come to Gleichen that day may rest assured that they will be royally entertained.

A genuine interest is now being manifested throughout the district in the growing of sugar beets, from Strathmore to Gleichen, and if even half the number of acres talked of are put in crop a worthy demonstration will be made. A farmer of vast experience remarked the other day that the necessity of the most careful preparation of the ground could not be too strongly impressed upon those who have not had previous experience in beet cultivation. He was most anxious to see a good demonstration this year, but he was more anxious that no one should be disappointed by lack of time and proper care in the effort and would much rather see them wait until next year if the land could not be got in good condition in time for this.

Breaking The Law

Many good meaning citizens often break the laws without any intention or knowledge. Many people get mixed up in costly law suits and court proceedings that could easily have been avoided had they known how to proceed or where to stop. "Ignorance of the law excuses no man." A man must therefore suffer for his ignorance of the law. Farmers, merchants, employers and employees often get into difficulties with one another, and much unpleasantness as well as heavy loss ensues. Now to offset much of these unnecessary conditions, J. R. Long, J.P., of Caron, Sask., has just published from the latest statutes of Dominion and provincial revision, and from legal lights, a handsomely cloth bound book covering some sixty subjects that concerns every farmer, business man and citizens every day of the week. It is of especial interest to landlords, homesteaders, tenants, merchants, and in fact to every man; deals with practically every phrase of common law, and scores of other greater subjects, covering the homestead laws and regulations as fully as any government official can. Also land laws, farmer's law, mechanic's act, etc.—all for the price of $1.00 post paid. Address—J. R. Long, J. P., Caron, Sask.

A SAFE DIET RULE.

Eat the Smallest Amount of Food
That Will Preserve Health.

How shall one determine how much food to eat? Too much mystery has been thrown about this subject. Let your sensations decide. It must be kept in mind that the entire function of digestion and assimilation is carried on without conscious supervision or concurrence. It should be entirely unfelt and unknown, excepting by the feeling of bien etre which accompanies and follows its normal accomplishment.
Satiety is bad. It implies a sensation of fullness in the region of the stomach, and that means that too much food has been taken. The exact correspondence in a healthy animal between the appetite and the amount of food required is extraordinary. As a rule, the meal, unless eaten very slowly, should cease before the appetite is entirely satisfied, because a little time is required for the outlying organs and tissues to feel the effects of the food that has been ingested. If too little has been taken, it is easy enough to make it up at the next meal, and the appetite will be only the better and the food more grateful.

No one was ever sorry for having voluntarily eaten too little, while millions every day repent having eaten too much. It has been said that the great lesson homeopathy taught the world was this—that whereas physicians had been in the habit of giving the patient the largest dose he could stand, they have been led to see that their purpose was better subserved by giving him the smallest dose that would produce the desired effect. And so it is with food. Instead of eating, as most people unfortunately do, as much as they can, they should eat the smallest amount that will keep them in good health.—Roger S. Tracy in Century.

THE MINISTER'S WIFE.

She Has Her Trials and Sorrows, but Also Her Reward.

The minister's wife exercises the statesmanship necessary to maintain a well ordered and cultured home on a small income—a home constantly under inspection by the whole parish.
She sets a fashion in becoming dress which tones up the taste of many of her parishioners whose husbands' incomes are two or three times as large as the minister's salary. She is the pastor and the actual head of the too numerous women's and children's organizations in the church, and she manages to keep most of the jealousies of their leaders from coming to the surface. She listens sympathetically to the confidences of the young women of the congregation, and the small wedding fees which occasionally fall into her lap are meager wages for all the time and thought she has given and the tears she has served to bring about these weddings—services which her neighbors may laugh at, but which are the most delicate and valuable of all ministries when they issue in happy homes.

She knows the pains, the joys and the sorrows of motherhood, and she has strengthened the courage of many a shrinking wife faltering on the threshold of an unknown realm. When she has closed the eyes of the darling of her heart in the last sleep she goes out to cheer weary watchers by sick beds and to give her silent sympathy to mourners who will not be comforted. She holds her queenly way in poverty, trial and not seldom under unkind and unjust criticism, and as she grows older a light radiates from her patient face which moves discerning friends who otherwise would pity her to say, "Verily, she has her reward!"— Congregationalist.

She Was Too Enthusiastic.

"Teaching to me," said an enthusiastic young schoolmistress, "is a holy calling. To sow in the young mind the seeds of future knowledge and watch them as they grow and develop is a pleasure greater than I can tell. I never weary of my work. My thoughts are only of"—

"I am very sorry," interrupted the young man to whom she was talking,
"that you are so devoted to your profession, Miss Clara. I had hoped that some day I might have asked you—in fact, I called tonight—but I hardly dare go on, in the light of what you"—

"You may go on, Mr. Smith," said the young lady softly. "I am a little too enthusiastic at times perhaps."

She Had to Forgive.

Mrs. Winks—Mrs. Ayres and her husband have had a dreadful quarrel just because she gave him a letter to mail and he carried it around in his pockets for a week. Isn't it too silly of her?
Mr. Winks—Maybe that would make you mad too. Mrs. Winks—Oh, John, I wouldn't lose my temper over a little thing like that. Mr. Winks—I'm glad to hear you say it, my dear. I just recall that I've still got that letter you gave me last Wednesday.

Escaped Her Notice.

"How did you like the way the minister advertised upon our colloquialisms last Sunday?" asked Mrs. Old-castle.

"I didn't notice it," replied her hostess. "Me and Josiah were crowded out of our own pew and had to set where we couldn't see him when he wasn't standin' up."

The Spinster Aunt's Opinion.

Carrie—Do you think a woman is justified in marrying a man she doesn't know? Aunt Jane—She certainly wouldn't be justified in marrying a man she did know.

Nothing in It.

"I understand, professor, that Miss Squawker is coming to you to cultivate her voice. Is there anything in it?"
"Not for her."

The Square Deal

What does it mean?

Just this. That the goods must be right and the price also.

It means also that the home merchant, who is more vitally interested in the growth and prosperity of his district than the merchant of the large town or city can possibly be, ought to receive the patronage of his neighbors.

The result is mutual satisfaction, as a trial order will convince.

I have a nice, clean, up-to-date, general stock and give careful attention to all orders given personally or by mail.

Just a Little Odd

The other day the fellow who turns out Gleichen's leading excitement indulged in a clean shave and his friends have been having no end of fun at his expense, and, of course, want to know why? Well, perhaps, the appended letter, which was recently received by him from the Old World, may explain matters a little:

Proposal Avenue, Odlington,
Leap Year 1908.

Dear Sir,—For me to write first may seem odd. But odd things being in fashion and you being an odd man, may want an odd wife to spend with you the days of your odd life. Then buy an odd ring and to church we will go. I would like to say, Yes! It would be odd to say, no. Then to our odd dinner our odd friends we would invite to spend an odd hour in mirth and delight. If you think well of my plan, just drop an odd line, for remember a bachelor is an odd man.

Yours sincerely,
MISS ODD.

[It may be odd for Miss Odd to learn that the odd man addressed oddly believes he is odd enough to have the best woman in the world, and being odd still likes all the odd girls and will help this odd girl to get the oddest bachelor if he is only so odd as to apply at this odd office.]

A German scientist claims that nature furnishes every man with an entirely new brain every sixty days. After a while it will be discovered that is not often enough with some men. And again: this may explain some of the strange acts of our political friends.
With such rapid changes you cannot always depend on quality being kept up.
This German's discovery may account for much of the trouble Gleichen has had for years past, but had he said every sixty hours he would have been much nearer the local agitator.
